

BUDGET PROVIDES CERTAINTY FOR INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS

The Independent school sector is reassured by Federal Budget which provides for wellbeing programs, educational reforms and more access for those in regional areas to boarding school places and childcare

The Federal Budget provides funding for Independent schools to continue programs that support the wellbeing of students across the country and supports important educational reforms in schools. The Budget funding will also allow more regional families to provide Independent school programs.

“We are pleased the Budget takes into account the needs of schools when so many are traumatised by flooding.

$17 million for extending national education programs is warmly welcomed.

The Budget provides $14.5 million for independent schools to support wellbeing programs.
